Template Category

There are various template categories according to the different use cases of WhatsApp Template Messages.

Given the pricing updates coming to WhatsApp API starting June 1, 2023, templates in AiSensy will now be classified under Utility, Authentication & Marketing.

1 - Utility - Transaction-focused messages used to confirm/ cancel a transaction or a subscription.

2 - Authentication - OTPs & login code messages used to authenticate a user.

3 - Marketing - All messages that relate to a business's products & services (except for transactional messages)

#4

Template Type

This defines the type of WhatsApp template message you want to send. The different types are TEXT, IMAGE, VIDEO & FILE.

You cannot just send images. You must add text along with the images, videos, or files you want to send.

Once the template message gets approved, you will be asked to attach a relevant media file to your users while broadcasting. The sample media file is for the approval process and informing WhatsApp of the kind of media file that will be sent by the business.

Please note that the media file needs to be sent along with some text. It is not like you can send only Images, Files, or Videos. TEXT is mandatory because, based on Text, WhatsApp Approves or Rejects a template message.

Template Format

The template format is your WhatsApp template message content. Write down the template message that you want to send to users after getting approved by WhatsApp.

The template message can have various dynamic values that are specific and unique to every user such as Name, OTP Number, Order ID, Payment Links etc.

These dynamic values are depicted by {{1}}, {{2}}, {{3}} and so on and so forth. If there are multiple dynamic values in a template message, it should always start with {{1}}, the next {{2}}, the next {{3}}...{{n}}.

WhatsApp Template message has the same formatting rules as normal WhatsApp. Here are a few you must know:

- For bold text add asterisks (*) at the start and end of the phrase (Text).
- Add underscores for Italics (_Text_).
- Add tides for Strikethrough (~strikethroughText~)
- To make a text evenly spaced or monospaced, place three backticks on both sides of the text (`text`)

FORMAT – The template message should not be more than 1024 characters.

Add Interactive Actions to make messages more actionable

If there are no interactive actions required, simply choose None. You can either add "CTAs" or a "Quick Replies" to a WhatsApp Template Message. You can't have both in one Template Message.

Chat with us

Call to Actions: There are 2 types of Call to Action buttons namely URL and Phone Number. A template message can have a URL or a Phone Number or a URL & a Phone Number both as CTA. You can not have two CTAs of the same type with a template message.

#10

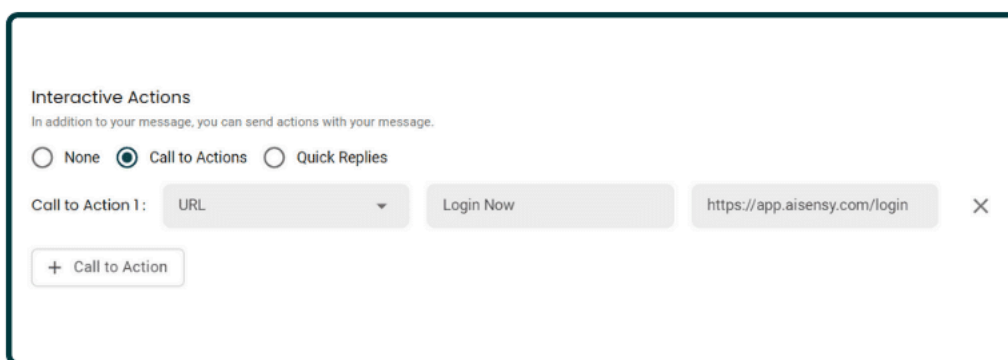

URL as Call to Action

After choosing the URL as the action type, you have to write the Button Title that appears as the clickable button and Button Value is the redirection link. The redirection link can be Static or Dynamic in nature.

Example of static button value: <https://aisensy.com/whatsapp-business-api>

Example of dynamic button value: <https://aisensy.com/{{5}}>

The numeric digit inside double curly brackets in the dynamic link is the next numeric digit after the ones in the Template Format. Like, if there are 6 dynamic values in the template format and there is a need for the dynamic link as well then the dynamic parameter will be represented by {{7}}.

#11

Phone Number as Call to Action

After choosing the Phone Number as the action type, you have to write the Button Title that appears as the clickable button and the Button Value is the Phone Number.

Note that the Phone Number must be written along with the country code without the plus (+) sign. If the number is submitted without the country code, it violates the format and gets rejected by WhatsApp.

#12

Quick Replies

These interactive action buttons are the user response buttons. This means if the user clicks on these buttons, the text in the buttons becomes the user's message.

There can be a maximum of 3 Quick Replies that can be sent with a template message (limitation by Facebook itself) and can have a maximum of 20 characters.

The WhatsApp template messages with the Quick Reply buttons can be used to take feedback from the customers or to make customers choose between two or more given options.

Interactive Actions
In addition to your message, you can send actions with your message.
Maximum 20 characters are allowed in CTA button title & Quick Replies.

☐ None ☐ Call to Actions ☒ Quick Replies

Quick Reply 1: I'm interested

Quick Reply 2: I'm not interested

Quick Reply 3: I haven't decided yet

WhatsApp Template Message Guidelines

WhatsApp Template Message gives Businesses to reach out to their customers by sending them notifications on WhatsApp. In order to send these templates to users, we need to get them approved from WhatsApp.

In case your template messages are getting rejected, here are a few reasons why: WhatsApp doesn't allow spamming and harmful content. So, these are two things on what Business cannot send a Template Message:

- No threatening content
- No data collection

WhatsApp Template Messages cannot contain threatening or abusive content. For example, Template Messages that threaten customers with legal action if they don't pay back their loans are not allowed.

Moreover, businesses can't collect data using WhatsApp Template Messages. Though you can certainly conduct polls and surveys, you can't ask for sensitive personal information such as credit card numbers through Template Messages.

In addition to the content constraints above, you need to comply with WhatsApp Template Message formatting rules.

WhatsApp Template Message Formatting Rules

Proofread your content for spelling and grammar before submitting it for review. Messages with incorrect spelling or any grammatical errors may prompt customers to view these messages as spam. Make sure to use variable parameters (e.g., {{1}}, {{2}}, etc.) and that they have the correct number of curly brackets (i.e., there need to be 2 brackets on the left and 2 on the right of the variable). Make sure the parameters (e.g., {{1}}) contains some text with it.

For example:

✓ Correct Format:

Hello {{1}}

✗ Wrong Format:

Hello

{{1}}

Chat with us

Make sure the language selected matches the content of your message template:

- If you select Spanish as the message template language but the content is in English, your message template will be rejected.
- Ensure that your content is in one language. A mixture of languages such as "Hinglish" or "Spanglish" will not be approved.

If you're going to submit a message template for testing your API connection, please ensure it's in the correct format. Any other variation will be rejected

Message template name: test

Content: Hello {{1}}

Refrain from using a URL shortener for your links (e.g., bit.ly, TinyURL, or goo.gl) because they obscure the intended link destination. The URL domain in your links should belong to your business.

Refrain from using extra spaces at the end of your template or double spacing in between your content. Generally, this spacing results in the rejection of the message.

Refrain from adding double-line space between your texts. For example:

Correct Format:

Hello {{1}},

How may I help you?

Incorrect Format: Hello {{1}},

How may I help you?

Avoid using Emoticons in Quick Reply Buttons.

Phone Number as Call to Action:

The Phone Number must be written along with the country code without the plus (+) sign. If the number is submitted without the country code, it violates the format and gets rejected by WhatsApp.
